

ERIC WALTER, ARMSTRONG TEASDALE RECOGNIZED FOR MARIJUANA AND HEMP LAW WORK

Armstrong Teasdale Partner Eric Walter has been recognized with a Reader's Choice Award by readers of Missouri cannabis industry publication Greenway Magazine as best lawyer serving the Missouri cannabis industry. Armstrong Teasdale was also selected as best law firm. The awards were based on nominations by more than 1,000 readers. Eric and the firm are both featured on pages 36-37 of the magazine's March/April issue.

A member of the firm's Litigation practice group, Eric focuses a significant part of his practice on representing businesses and individuals in the legalized marijuana industry. He has successfully represented companies applying for state licenses to cultivate and dispense medical marijuana and its byproducts. In this area, Eric advises clients on state and federal regulations governing not only the operation of legalized marijuana businesses, but also the solicitation of and contracting with investors and other business partners.

Winners were recognized this month during MoCannBizCon in St. Louis.
